"The Book with the Backward Look" folds back its pages and spotlights changes during the last fifty years. In 1910, while the first senior class entered the new building at Seventh and Walnut, the vibrant figure of former President Theodore Roosevelt dominated U. S. political circles. Meanwhile, abroad, tensions raged in high gear. A powder keg constructed of strong sentiment among European countries waited quietly for a stray spark. Across the Atlantic, pressure mounted toward the United States. The volcano erupted when Americans scanned headlines of the day—"Lusitania Sunk—Americans Aboard!" In 1917 the U. S. declared war on Germany and throngs of Americans left homes, families, and jobs, and went to war with the cry, "Make the world safe for democracy." November 11, 1918, world powers agreed to peace. After four long years of war, the world prodded itself back to that forgotten word—normality. Oldsters shook their heads at zany antics of students who were destined to shimmy to the uptempo rhythms of the "Roaring Twenties." Hysterical phrases, "the Bee's Knees" and "23-Skidoo," echoed from crowded "speak-easies," then wilted under the blanket of Depression. Black Friday, October, 1929, shrouded carefree life across the nation. December 7, 1941, Japan bombed Pearl Harbor, and World War II sent the country into mass defensive production. The next morning HHS students forgot petty trifles and turned to the White House as President Franklin D. Roosevelt asked Congress to declare war on Japan. August 6, 1945, the Atomic bomb was dropped on Hiroshima and World War II came to an end September 1. Americans peered apprehensively into the future. Pages of history skip a decade and unfold upon the frantic race for space supremacy. While the U. S. battled the relentless Asian flu, Russia launched Sputnik I, October, 1957. It was months later before the United States regained its lost prestige. Hutchinson students listened intently as news machines flashed the accomplishments of Explorer I. During the "Fabulous Fifties," the halls of HHS grew dim with age, but its antiquated caverns failed to dampen Salt Hawk spirit. In their spare time spirited "Hawkers" "rocked 'n rolled" to the strumming of the twangy guitar of Elvis Presley, wailing saxophones, and the Kingston Trio. Teenagers abandoned bicycles and crowded into automobiles, foreign "bugs," and "hot rods." Students whose ulterior goal appeared to be "dragging Main, or "playing it cool," took a last look at high school days, then strode confidently into the "Soaring Sixties."

During the last fifty years many traditions and changes have been initiated at Hutchinson High School. The 1960 Allagaroo would like to pay tribute to these "firsts."

- 1910 First annual editor—Chester Tedrick. The name of the annual has changed seven times. In 1909 it was the H. S. Oracle; 1910 to 1914, the Buzz; 1916, the H. S. Annual; 1917, the Superba; 1918, Liberty; 1919, La Victorie; 1920 until the present, the Allagaroo.
First principal of Hutchinson High School—Mr. S. L. Palmer
- 1911—First senior memorial—Plaque on the west wall of the south stairs.
- 1913 Hutchinson High School's first cheerleader—Mr. Henry Pegues.
- 1923 First valedictorian and salutatorian—Jean Wright and Hazel Anderson.
- 1925 First student council president—Donald Wooddell.
- 1929 First Young American—Jack Hardy.
- 1935 First football homecoming queen—Ruth Hungerford.
- 1942 First Allagaroo king—Walter Quiring.

staff selects government teacher for honor

C. R. Gillilan combines a great personality with a greater sense of humor and thorough knowledge of American government to make what is sometimes a dull subject seem alive and interesting. The graduate of Central Missouri State Teachers College is an avid sports fan with preference for football. He can be seen many times during the fall following the Salt Hawks on out-of-town games.

Mr. Gillilan doesn't require the impossible for a good grade; his assignments do not keep a student up all night. But a student who has him in class works hard for whatever he gets and also receives as wide a knowledge of American government as can be obtained by a high school student. It is with pleasure and respect that we, the 1960 Allagaroo staff, dedicate this book to C. R.

Gillilan, a devoted teacher who does much to preserve the democracy of this country and rid the future American citizens of apathy.

C. R. Gillilan

"Now class, here's something I want you to get!"

"... and I'll answer any questions just as soon as I'm through ..."

"... what was it I started to say?"

young american board selects cheerleader as thirty-second

Winner of the thirty-second Young American award was Vicki Allen, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. F. Gale Allen. Vicki was presented a $100 scholarship and the traditional silver loving cup in the annual awards assembly. Selected by a representative committee of students, teachers, and alumni, she received the award on the basis of leadership, dependability, and citizenship.

The Young American award was originated in 1929 by Charles W. Oswald, a Hutchinson businessman. It is now presented by A. Lewis Oswald, class of 1917, and William L. Mitchell, class of 1942, both Hutchinson lawyers.

Vicki has been active in school activities since her freshman year when she was elected president of Liberty Junior High School's student council. She was selected for the board of directors of GAA, Briny Birds, and Kayettes, and was a cheerleader in her freshman, junior, and senior years. As a senior Vicki was Kayette president. She participated in publishing the 1958-1959 Buzz and the 1960 Allagaroo.

After graduation Vicki will have a summer job in her father's office, and in the fall she plans to enter the University of Kansas.

Alan Hamilton, president, observes the scattering of light in a colloidal dispersion of sulfur in alcohol. Alan plans to attend the University of Kansas and major in science or math.

Trying to beat "Ole Sol" is Linda Carey, senior treasurer. Linda plans to attend Kansas University.

Miss Esther Cope, head senior class sponsor, and class officers Connie Coberly, Sue Brown, Linda Carey, and Alan Hamilton make tentative plans for the May 14 senior prom for the 388 seniors. The senior officers appoint committees for the prom and are in charge of the senior assembly.

"Yes, it was for me," laughs Connie Coberly, senior class secretary. Connie is going to college at KU where she plans to major in sociology.

"Why won't this presser foot go down?" questions Sue Brown, vice president. Sue, who will attend Juco next year, is planning a major in English.

Hitting the books is Bruce Ferris, junior class president, who finishes an English assignment.

"Hey, someone get in here and help me fold these Buzzes!" shouts Marcie Spaniol, junior secretary, to any willing "fourth-estater."

Weekly routine for Julie Coyne, treasurer of the class, is spending her second-hour study hall reading page proof for the Buzz.

An old hand at being a "ham" radio operator is Charles Nichols, class vice president.

At Christmas the usual thing to do is have homeroom parties. In this candid shot Walter Rinehart's sophomores are getting acquainted with the tradition. The bottle on the left, incidentally, is full of cold cider.

student council

speak, work for students*

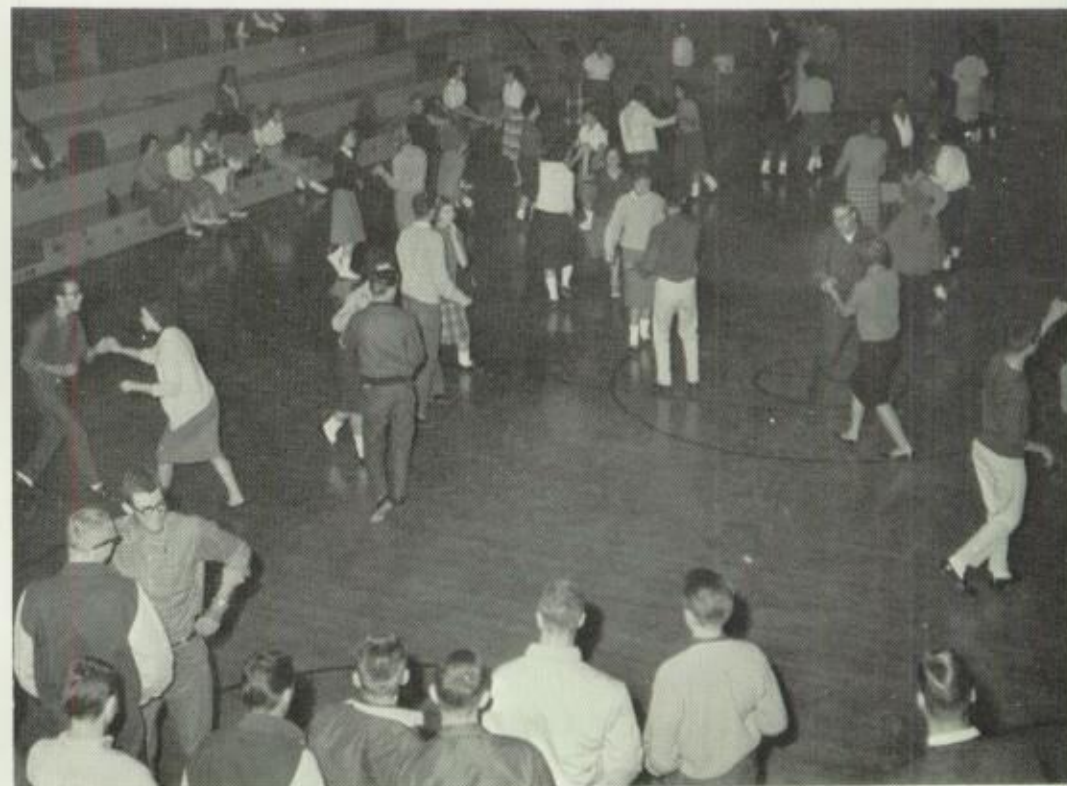

Another "Stuco steak" is ready for the hungry student council members. Vice president Marlene Colwell and President Jim Walker prepare the food at the pre-school get-acquainted picnic for members and sponsors.

"Just like the olden days," reminisces Robert Watson as he and Jann Turner, Karen Ream, Mary Tregellas, Jeny Morris, and Vickey Erwin attend classes in their dress-down clothes on a Stuco-sponsored sloppy day.

Tacking down the royal carpet for the basketball queen assembly are Richie Barber, Marlene Parker, Mary Winter, and Sharon Cole.

Dancing off their lunches are high school students at a Tuesday noon dance. For five cents students enjoy twenty-five minutes of relaxation and recreation before afternoon classes.

Chatting about the events of summer and the expectations of the school year at the get-acquainted picnic are senior Stuco members Connie Coberly, Sue Schrock, Linda Carey, Carol Rostine, Sue Brown, Dee Joyce, Connie Chabin, and Susan Jones.

"You expect to do that on our budget?" says Linda Carey, treasurer, to Miss Ruth Evans, sponsor; Betty Fox, secretary; and Mr. Nels Havens, sponsor.

President Jim Walker and Vice President Marlene Colwell started off the 1959-'60 year with a hamburger fry for the junior and senior student council members. At an election held at the picnic, Betty Fox was elected secretary and Linda Carey, treasurer.

Among the highlights of the year was the student council sponsored Christmas assembly. Santa's helpers, the Stuco representatives, passed out treats. Also on the year's agenda were the football and basketball homecoming assemblies and ceremonies. Noon dances were held every other Tuesday. Continuation of class assemblies and the selling of student movie tickets were other Stuco goals.

One of the three new projects of the council was the election of Tom Minor as safety co-ordinator. The second project was the revision of the council constitution, and the third was the setting up of a polling booth system for the spring elections.

Billfold size honor roll cards were given to students who were on the semester honor roll, and intramural basketball was sponsored.

Thirty-five senior journalists combined their talents to produce this book, the 1960 Allagaroo.

The three-color embossed cover displayed a hint of "beatnik," but it's really the "Book with the Backward Look."

In December six senior boys, selected by the Allagaroo staff, vied for the royal title of Allagaroo King. Jim Hughes was elected and was crowned by Clare Cameron, yearbook editor, in assembly.

The staff was joined at its annual banquet by guests Jim Hughes, Allagaroo King; C. R. Gillilan, dedicatee of the book; Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Guy, and Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Small.

Books were distributed just before the school year closed at the annual Allagaroo signing party in the boys' gym. And at last it was all over—another year had been officially recorded in pictures through the pages of the 1960 Allagaroo.

The editor's job isn't all work and Clare Cameron kisses Allagaroo King Jim Hughes. Betty Fox, his escort, looks on.

"Do you think Monroe or Mansfield will win the contest?" asks Richard Israel in a discussion at the party given by the Allagaroo staff for the new Buzz students. Others enjoying the party are Marlene Colwell, Linda Carey, Chuck Seibel, Bob Henson, Bob Kistler and Vicki Allen. Buzz students Van Thompson, Tom Lappin, and John Dunn wait in line for food.

"Hear no evil, see no evil, speak no evil, and buy an Allagaroo," say Allagaroo mascots Tom Minor, Chuck Seibel, and Bob Henson.

THE DAY BEFORE.

DEADLINE DAY!!!

THE DAY AFTER.

Tackling a "tall" assignment calls for ingenuity on the part of Allagaroo shutterbugs. Peering down from their makeshift "Ivory Tower" are, from bottom to top, Tom Haworth, Mark Mallett, Steve Humphreys, and Dave Hamilton.

"If you don't want to look like this, buy an Allagaroo!" say the Allagaroo staff in an assembly to kick-off the book sales.

junior journalism class prints news students make

Smiling his approval of the finished product is Buzz editor, Kent Britt.

Buzz reporters, Scotty Young, Mike Stevens, Christie Scheffy, Nancy Baker, and Keith Swigger watch the press to see their week's work in print.

"We print the pictures you take," might well be the motto of photographers Tom Lappin and David Morgan as they print pictures for the weekly newspaper.

Busily working to meet the Thursday deadline are the four first page editors, Marcia Harmon, Joan Burger, Julie Coyne, and Janet Symns.

The Buzz class wishes adviser Mrs. Aylene Keown a happy birthday with a surprise party. Mrs. Keown and Joan Burger watch as Lois Ann Janner cuts the cake.

"I'll cover the Wellington game," says Harry Chabin as sportswriters John Dunn, Harry, Jim Hardy, Beatty Hunter, Van Thompson, and Jim Ludwig plan the fourth page.

Just for the record—Buzz advertising salesgirls Judi Cummings, Carol Martin, Marcie Spaniol, and Patsy Brown pick up a mat from a local record store owner.

Hmmm, this is a good idea, thinks Marcia Ebright, as she, Jerry Battey, Sarah Seshier, Barbara Lamb, and Charles Hyter look through exchange papers.

Mary Beth Young beams as Tom Minor, master of ceremonies, and Chuck Seibel crown her Miss Buzz for 1960. Waiting to kiss the queen are Bob Henson, Stu Keown, and Chuck.

The Buzz staff kicked off their 1959-1960 Buzz year with a party given for them by the Allagaroo staff in the spring of 1959 at the Wheatheart Inn. Through the year the junior journalists worked long hours to meet the inevitable Thursday deadline when the Buzz was delivered.

The free all-school dance, given by the custodians Jan. 29, featured the crowning of Mary Beth Young as Miss Buzz. Her attendants were Julie Coyne, Dee Freidenberger, Martha Gilbert, Marcia Harmon, and Marcie Spaniol. These girls were chosen from the Buzz staff by the students attending the dance.

Reading proof, writing cutlines, meeting deadlines, and laying out pages gave "Buzzers" experience for work on next year's Allagaroo.

Scanning the page proof for mistakes are alternating third page editors Lois Ann Janner, Dee Freidenberger, Martha Gilbert, Alice Jane Reed, and Mary Beth Young.

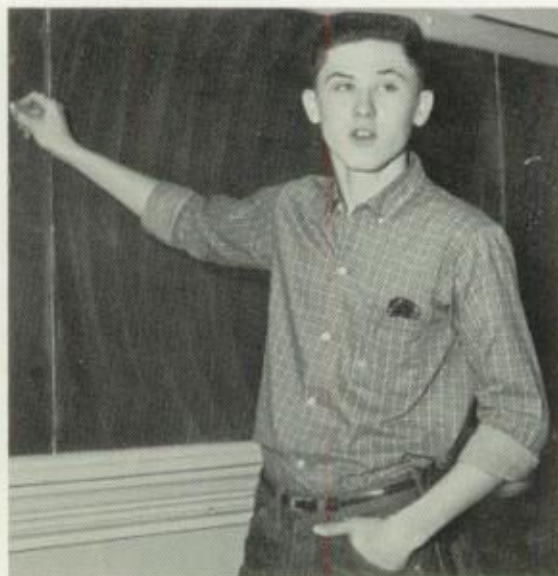

"What's this?" wonders President Alan Hamilton as Tom Haworth, secretary, and Russell Eberhart, vice president, examine a static electricity generator.

Relaxing before a guest speaker arrives are Rusty Hilst, Bob Summers, Marilyn Ward, and Barbara Lamb. Mr. Max Hamilton, sponsor, stands in the background.

"Well, here's how it was," explains Marilyn Ward, telling of her experiences at the University of Kansas math-science summer camp.

Process color printing is an intricate process and Dave Hamilton demonstrates with graphs, charts, and materials from his part-time Hutchinson News photographer job.

Relating his ham radio experiences, Russell Eberhart discusses industrial transistor applications and tells members how the transistor's importance has increased.

In a year of satellites and hydrogen bomb tests, Valence club explored possible occupational interests in the field of science. Much of the members' time was concerned with programs which varied from nuclear propulsion to high-fidelity.

Subjects talked upon by guest speakers included astronomy, engineering, and physics of light.

Later in the year, the club discussed possible science projects and reviewed college entrance science requirements.

"Not that one," suggests Larry Cooper as he supervises a chess game. Other onlookers are Gregg Gibson, Larry Steele, Mike Swigger, and Chuck Fish. The actual combatants are Kenny Small, Lewis Brown, Keith Swigger, and Harry Echols.

Showing the girls how to play this intellectual man's game of chess are Leslie Siegrist, Alan Hamilton, Bill Hayes, and Buzz Good. The girls are Barbara Smith, Julie Schroll, Mary Beth Culver, Sue Fowler, and Judy Vanek.

"We have to include the girls," remarks Vice President Alan Hamilton as executive officers and sponsor Mr. E. J. Metz discuss an upcoming tournament. Buzz Good, secretary-treasurer, seemingly groans as President Bill Hayes appears noncommittal.

literature; improve grammar*

Gathering in Miss Doris Ely's room during the year were the ten English teachers. Discussions concerned methods of improving the teaching of English for the twenty sections of sophomore English, seventeen of junior, five of senior, two of Modern Novels, and two of journalism. For the second year the junior classes were divided into college bound and general English levels.

The faculty members discussed new problems as the architect's plans for the location of the department in the new high school were examined.

Although there was no Book Week assembly, senior English students read and evaluated new books for the school library, as a Book Week project.

This is part of English? For a senior English project Steve Humphreys and Lawrence Morgan set the moods of the "Canterbury Tales" to music. Steve and Lawrence supervise a trio of Jim Stubbs, Susan Sickmon, and Jennifer Howard, as the music is reproduced. A special folder written in the Middle English style holds the music.

Over a cup of coffee Superintendent Lowell A. Small discusses the facilities of the department in the new building. Sitting next to Mr. Small is the chairman of the English department, Miss Doris Ely. Mrs. Dorothy Stamper, Mrs. Aylene Keown, and Mrs. Ora Kruse listen.

Looking the reference books over on an orientation tour are sophomores Boyd Rostine, Chuck Fish, Donna Farmer, and Brenda Ehling. Studying are Sue Ann Fowler and Gene Barnard. In the spring juniors are offered a "refresher course" as they prepare their research papers.

Picking up a few "tricks of the teaching trade" is Miss Ann Steiner, practice English teacher, as she watches Mr. Del Knauer lecture to one of his classes. Listening are Eunice Altvater, Gary Burris, Sue Dusenbery, Warren Carter, Gale Fuller, June Daugherty, Sharon Dragoon, and Raymond Graves.

Dennis McCracken, Bob Marquez, Karen McEntarfer, Susan Jones, Linda Carey, and Mary Daugherty, Los Gatos board members, make plans for the chili supper and the trip to KU for Cervantes Day which was held in May.

Already seated on the floor and enjoying refreshments at the annual Los Gatos pinata party are Rosemary Pina, Mary Martinez, Stella Martinez, Kemba Koontz, Amelia Maldonado, Nancy Colladay, Barbara Ramos, Alice Rodriguez, and Paula Rodriguez. Miss Mary Borra, Marc Emery, Bill Jefferies, Ed Kumorowski, Bob Marquez, Roseanne Laird, Dennis McCracken, Mary Ann Keffer, and Ron Cotrell wait in line.

"Twinkle, twinkle little star, how I wonder WHERE you are!" — Mary Daugherty strikes out valiantly at the Christmas pinata as onlookers giggle at her efforts.

"Now look here, star! I'll put a hex on you if you don't stop swinging," Mary says, pointing in the "general" direction of the star.

"I know you're up there," laughs Sylvia Gallardo. Amelia Maldonado, Kemba Koontz, Alice Rodriguez, and Roseanne Laird watch the swinging star as its paper "tail" flutters in the breeze.

"Any questions about the KU trip?" asks Mr. Warren Brown, sponsor, during a monthly meeting.

palette and brush

*art clubbers work after school;

Palette and Brush, opened to anyone who was interested in art, had the largest number of members since its organization.

Ending the initiation picnic, which was held at the Oswald farm, was the dabbing of green paint on the noses of all new members.

The members participated in the club's activities which included the first after-game dance of the year, selling art materials, making posters for clubs, Easter and Christmas window decorations, the Valentine's food sale, and the workshop twice a week after school in the art room.

Speakers and demonstrators were the guests of Palette and Brush at meetings.

For the tenth year Mr. Warren Brown, sponsor, chaperoned the artists on the annual art trip to the University of Kansas.

Uh-huh! It's fattening, but . . . Marlene Colwell, board member; Susan Meschke, treasurer; Patty Haston, secretary; Judy Bartlett, vice president; and Clare Cameron, president, look dejected because they can't eat the food. They have to sell it!

"Now the first thing to do is draw your design," explains Clare Cameron to Don Webster, Martin Stein, Judy DeGraw, Ronnie Burch, Mary Carey, and Rita Harrington about copper enameling.

"Ohhhh . . . we'll never make it to KU" says Patty Haston as she tries to get the trunk lid down. Donna and Deanne Dehart, Clare Cameron, Kathy Deppner, and Marlene Colwell shift luggage to see if they can solve the problem.

Caught sampling the "goodies" is the board. A prospective customer inspects the Valentine-theme food as Susan Meschke, Marlene Colwell, Patty Haston, Deanne and Donna Dehart, Rita Harrington, Kathy Deppner, and Ronnie Burch eat up the profits. Not pictured is Jim Walker.

"Deck the halls with hanging angels"—Tish Darlington, Janet Henry, Barry Hilleary, and Bob Harmon adjust Christmas decorations for the front window.

The center of attention—The name is "food" and it gets plenty of attention at the initiation picnic.

Janice Goldsmith, Janet Henry, and Judi Cummings roast their "doggies" good and black at the Oswald farm.

With nose to the grindstone, Nancy Thompson puts finishing touches to her art project. Bev Bond and Sally Greenert also work on their projects.

Club members listen as Mrs. Louise Pickering, Little River, Kans., speaks on the techniques of portrait painting.

"No, this way," says instructor Mr. Walter E. Knox to linotype operator, Larry Gilley. Watching the instruction are Ron Littleton, Jim Shuman and Larry Redgate.

Mr. Walter E. Knox's staff of twelve vocational printers combined an abundance of practical experience along with study in the classroom.

The crew of seven seniors and five juniors printed virtually all forms, programs, letterheads, and envelopes for the Hutchinson schools. They also printed HHS's weekly paper, the Buzz, the student handbook, and the faculty directory.

During the first semester each boy was required to complete all phases of his project. The final semester the boys were departmentalized as pressmen, composers, or binders, and carried out their particular tasks on their own.

HHS's printing program extends after graduation. Boys interested in making careers in the profession are helped to locate positions.

Lull before the storm think printers as they relax before meeting the Thursday Buzz deadline. They are Mr. Walter E. Knox, Wesley Watkins, David Atkinson, Johnnie Blaine, Larry Bickel, Kenneth Wheatley, Larry Gilley, and John Lemen.

Ghosts or FTA'ers? Attending the formal induction candle-lighting service are Kathy Becker, Linda Young, Cathie Zimmerman, Mary Ann Keffer, Kathy Deppner, Cecilia Myers, Francie Koon, Gene Edman, Carol Ann Hartke, and Janice Higgins.

The four-year-old FTA organization had 52 members this year. They sponsored a rummage sale in March and proceeds went for the Willa Lewis Future Teachers of America scholarship presented to a senior future teacher.

Club members served as teachers aides and also participated in elementary classroom visitations. Club members had a concession stand in the boys' gym for debaters attending the Hutchinson tournament.

On the state board were Harriett Ridlen, state FTA president, and Mrs. Ariel Perrill, state FTA sponsor.

Listening and watching future students of HHS is Jean Glaser who attends visitation day in an elementary school.

"After all, it's not fattening!" says Mrs. Ariel Perrill, FTA sponsor, as she hands Carol Ann Hartke a second piece of watermelon while Francie Koon ponders upon that statement. Douglas Hager, Nancy Baker, and Lois Ann Janner are waiting for their share.

"You're off beat!" exclaims Miss Dorothy Dale, elementary music supervisor, as she directs an FTA music session. Beaters are Karen Myers, Barbara Homan, Anne Andres, Jane Hubbard, Esta Sue Burk, and Douglas Hager. Overseeing the production is Marilyn Ward.

Waiting to be served are board members Jane Hubbard, librarian; Esta Sue Burk, vice president; Bob Slade, treasurer; Marilyn Ward, secretary; Allen Delker, parliamentarian; Corkey Johnson and Carl Detter, song leaders; and Harriett Ridlen, president. Not pictured is Douglas Hager, historian. 83

The Briny Bird pep club, which numbered over 400 members, displayed their enthusiasm by cheering at the sporting events, at a fall bonfire, and at noon pep rallies.

Football homecoming, Nov. 15, was on a cold 15 degree day. The Briny Bird-sponsored parade included 35 floats, the band, marching Briny Birds and the cheerleaders, queen candidates, and students on horses. "Deadly Dudley," a popular Wichita radio announcer, made a spectacular arrival and judged the floats.

Several additions to the club included the flash card section made up of 160 girls, and two mascots, Brad Chabin as Sammy Salt Hawk, Jr., and Debbie Erwin as Suzie Salt Hawk.

The Briny Bird Sweetheart Hop was held Feb. 5 where Bud Montford was crowned Sweetheart King.

Lending a helping hand to the club were the sponsors, Mr. Del Knauer and Mr. Homer Kruckenburg.

"Look Mom, no cavities!" exclaim Briny Bird officers and board members—BOTTOM ROW TO TOP: Sandy Embick, secretary; Fred Stanfield, treasurer; Jeny Lou Morris, Vice president; Susan Colladay, Nancy Thompson, Shirley Herron, Carole Kruger, Connie Chabin, Connie Hitz, Larry Morgan, LaDonna Malson, Vicki Allen, Stu Keown, Mark Mallett, and Tom Haworth. Starting early, the Kayettes opened the bookstore before school started. Between semesters the store was again in operation.

Teachers were welcomed back to school by finding a "Peach for Teach" on their desks. September marked the opening of membership, followed by a party after school for all new recruits. The membership totaled 310.

Other fall activities for this girls' service club included the Mother-Daughter Tea which had the theme "Togetherness." Thanksgiving brought the Kayette all-school assembly. Dr. Clarence Borger of Trinity Methodist Church gave the address.

A big function for all was the Snowball which was held in December. Several of the six teams within the club celebrated Christmas by having team parties.

Among other Kayette projects and parties were the selling and delivering of the singing valentines, the faculty coffee, assistance to the Shelter Home, a "Date with Dad" party, noon devotional services at Easter, and "Janitors' Week." World service projects were CARE, Save the Children's Federation, and Meals for Millions.

After the program in the auditorium, Kayettes and their mothers stand in the "cider line" at the annual Mother-Daughter tea.

After long hours of work, Hutch High's Christmas formal, the eighth Kayette-sponsored Snowball, was held Dec. 12. Convention Hall was decorated with sapphire and ice-blue crepe paper, with instruments and musical murals carrying out the "Snow Symphony" theme. A snow-sprayed Christmas tree adorned the middle of the floor while 300 couples whirled to the music of the Symphonettes, McPherson High School's dance band.

The big day for all Kayettes arrives. Clare Cameron, Mari Jane Howe, Judi Bowlinger, Donna Bennett, JoAnn Kessler, Patty Browning, and Betty Fox get the false ceiling ready to put up.

Spelling bees, business visits, and talk fests constituted FBLA's programs for 1960. Members sponsored a dance early in the year, using its proceeds to send seniors and juniors to the March 25-26 convention at Pittsburg, Kans. Purpose of the club was to further members' interests in business careers.

Head sponsor was Mr. Walter Rinehart, and co-sponsors were business education teachers Mr. Richard O. Stowell, Mr. Dennis Knox, and Miss Virginia Armstrong.

HEY! THIS ISN'T SO BAD AFTER ALL.

In one of her few moments of leisure Linda Nonken, FHA president, enjoys herself with one of her many hobbies.

"Blue print for action," the state theme for Future Homemakers of America, was carried out in parties, projects, and assemblies.

Getting into the Christmas spirit, the girls played Santa by showering a needy family with food and clothes. The Father-Daughter chili supper made its debut and was expected to become an annual affair. "Come one, come all," was the call to the traditional barn-warmer held by the FHAer's. Sponsoring the Easter assembly was another club activity.

Sandy Lock was the only Hutchinson girl Topeka bound to receive her state degree.

The members ended activities with a spring picnic and looked "Toward New Horizons" for better homemaking.

Hi-Y started its year with a membership of over 60 boys. The year's activities included working in the concession stands at football games and attending the Hi-Y Model Legislature at Topeka. Members composed bills and tried to pass them through the combined houses. Also held at the end of the year was the annual picnic.

For the second year Hi-Y awarded a $100 scholarship to a deserving senior. A service to all students was the student directory. The directory was given to the students free and was paid for by the advertising in it.

Meetings consisted of talks from scholarships to the operation of the U. S. mail. Each meeting found a different speaker addressing the club. The club held a dance in April. Profits from the activities paid for the club's functions.

songsters entertain in assemblies, go christmas caroling, perform at concert

Enthusiastic workers combined efforts to produce and entertain the public with a professional production of Rodgers and Hammerstein's "Carousel." The popular musical was directed by John Cooper, vocal music instructor, Jan. 14 and 15 at Convention Hall. Late nineteenth century costumes added to the color and splendor of "Carousel." The chorus consisted chiefly of a cappella choir members. Most of the leads were also taken from a cappella. The orchestra was under the direction of Jim Dailey and the painting of the sets was supervised by Warren Brown, art instructor.

About 230 students were enrolled in vocal music. Any junior or senior who wished to take choir was enrolled in junior-senior choir. Sophomores signed up for sophomore choir. In the spring of 1959, Mr. Cooper had tryouts for a cappella choir. Any junior or senior was eligible. Members of chorale, a smaller singing group, were selected from a cappella. In the spring musical activities ended with a concert with all groups performing.

dramatics group promotes plays

A membership drive, boosted by a one-act play, started the year for Perrill club.

Mr. Bob Patton directed the play "Yes Means No," which was presented at an all-school assembly, to gain interest in the dramatics club.

"Hearts and Flowers" was the first one-act directed by senior board member, Diane Mitchell. She presented her play at the second club meeting.

The biggest project for the 1959-1960 board was the promotion of the Perrill club three-act "The Desk Set." Board and club members worked together to promote the play which was given Feb. 25.

David Preston strikes an indignant pose as Patty Hageman, Patty Haston, Sheila Reynolds, and Bruce Davis gaze at him in surprise. The one-act "Hearts and Flowers" was directed by Diane Mitchell.

"One, two, three—hop." Bob Brown, Gerald Martens, Dixie Hayes, Eddie Cook, and Valerie Ferris disrupt office routine with a rumba.

It's time-out for a little Christmas cheer as Bunny, played by Diane Mitchell, and Peg, portrayed by Valerie Ferris, fight over who gets some first.

office girls set scene for 'the desk set'

The question of whether electronic brains could ever replace office girls was presented in the Perrill club three-act comedy "The Desk Set" Feb. 25, in Richardson Auditorium.

The office girls, headed by Bunny Watson, a walking encyclopedia, lined up in a war of wits against the electronic brain, Emmerac. "Emmy" was backed up by her founder, Miss Warriner, and her promoter, Richard Sumner.

A compromise was reached and the girls, aided in research by "Emmy," kept their jobs.

The play was directed by Mrs. Gene Cramer.

Celebrating after the play are Bruce Davis, Bob Brown, Jim Enns, Larry Hollowell, Bill Hobson, and June Daugherty. In the background Diane Mitchell, Dixie Hayes, and Pat Ross take advantage of the food.

Demonstrating "Miss Emmy," the electronic brain, is Russell Eberhart, who designed and built Emmerac.

all-school play

*irish invade stage
for 'loud red patrick'*

Spats and fashionable frocks of 1917 adorned the stage of Richardson Auditorium, Oct. 29, as the cast of the all-school play "Loud Red Patrick" presented the three-act comedy directed by Mrs. Gene Cramer.

Loud Red Patrick, a widower, ran his house of four daughters on a family-council basis. Each member was eligible to vote on issues concerning the family. The number of votes depended on the age of the voter. This meant that the girls had to stick together in order to veto Papa.

When the council decided that Maggie, the eldest daughter, should be allowed to marry rather than attend college, Papa refused to follow the decision to give his consent. This was the start of a family war which ended with the council victorious and Maggie getting her man.

Silence prevails as Papa Patrick, played by Douglas Hager, looks over Maggie's boy friend, Ralph Penrose, Bill Hobson. Anxious to know his reaction are Rita, Carolyn Cotter; Ralph, Rosalie, Lois Ann Janner; Mr. Finnegan, Kent Britt; Maggie, Pat Ross; and Mary, Sharon Elliott.

"Watch your thumb," yells Bruce Davis to John Scott as John, Mrs. Gene Cramer, director; Bruce, June Daugherty, and Diane Mitchell ready the set for the big night.

Time to grease-up and members of the cast and make-up crew, Kent Britt, John Scott, Diane Mitchell, Rita Harrington, Douglas Hager, Jim Enns, Pat Ross, Carolyn Cotter, June Daugherty, and Sharon Elliott add finishing touches and relax before the play.

Flattery seems to be getting Mr. Finnegan, Kent Britt, everywhere with Mrs. Callup, Diane Mitchell. Actually, the only place he is interested in getting, is her pocketbook.

local chapter hosts state convention

As host of the 1960 state convention, Hutchinson Key Club, a branch of Kiwanis International, experienced a year of planning and fund-raising.

The March 25-27 state convention, held at the Baker Hotel in Hutchinson, featured planning sessions, climaxing with a dance for over 300 representatives who attended. Guests of honor included C. William Nelson of Florida, International president of Key Club, and Terry Smith, state governor, from Topeka, Kans. Board members of the Hutchinson club headed committees in charge of registration, expenses, and organizational problems.

As a limited membership group, the sixty-five boys raised funds by selling Kiwanis pancake feed tickets and holding a spring car wash. Public service projects included the annual jaywalking campaign, Christmas Big Brothers aid, and vocational club programs.

Five boys attended the 1959 International convention at Toronto, Canada where Bob White won third place in the talent contest. Plans were made for the 1960 International convention at Boston, Mass. Mr. Frank Kellenbarger, faculty sponsor, and Mr. Herman Bunte, Kiwanis sponsor, helped correlate club activities with school and community groups.

"Walk On Green" paint Jerry Scott and Paul Schwarz as they participate in Key Club's jaywalking campaign.

co-ed counselors

Guess we're special or something—sophomore girls are served refreshments by the Co-ed Counselors at a mixer in the boys' gym.

Co-ed Counselors select dates for their coke parties after a counselors swimming party at Linda Carey's. The girls are Carol Spickelmier, Sharron Markart, Mary Daugherty, Betty Fox, Dee Ann Joyce, Karen Myers, Susan Meschke, Linda Carey, Sue Brown, Connie Chabin, Sue Schrock, Grace Ferguson, Alice Rueschhoff, Patty Haston, Marcia Ediger, Jeny Morris, Vicki Allen, Susan Jones, Mary Wohlford, and Marilyn Anthony.

The seven-year-old Co-ed Counselor organization, a group of sixty senior girls, performed many new duties this year. The girls were selected by Miss Mary Petty, girls' counselor, for leadership, friendliness, scholarship, and personality.

Each Co-ed Counselor was assigned four girls. In the summer, Counselors helped to acquaint the new sophomores with high school life by entertaining them at coke parties. A mixer was given for all of the girls and their counselors at the start of the school year.

The Co-ed Counselors acted as hostesses at open house and career day. Dating, clothes, and charm were themes of some of the program meetings during the year.

In December they sponsored a chili supper before a basketball game. They also went Christmas caroling.

The busy year was brought to a climax by programs planned for Liberty, Plaza, and Sherman junior high schools which acquainted the freshmen with high school life.

Listening sophies soak up information while digesting their meal. Clare Cameron, Nancy Thompson, and Dana Stewart went all out for their counselees by giving them a hamburger fry.

"But why can't I be a GAA member?" asks Dreier, a German shepherd owned by Judy Haskard. Judy, president of GAA, tries to explain that no dogs are allowed.

Leading 28 board members and 395 GAA members in a campaign to rouse new interest in girls' sports was Judy Haskard, president of the Girls' Athletic Association.

As money-raising projects, GAA sold the traditional shakers and homecoming mums, and sponsored a candy sale. The sports-minded participated in volleyball, basketball, ice-skating, bowling, softball, tennis, and golf. A playday held in the spring attracted schools from surrounding towns.

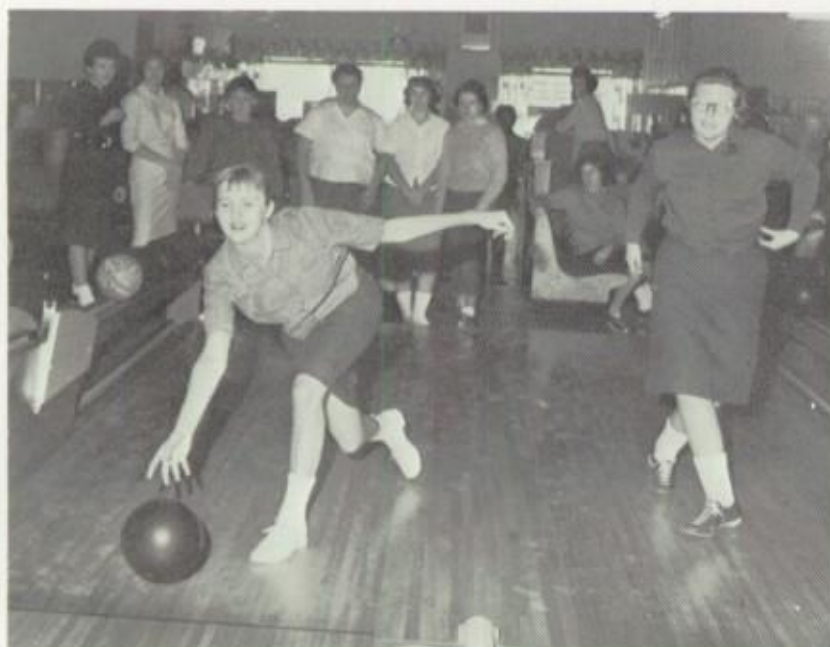

It was March in Paris as board members presented "Chez Joie," the "House of Joe." The annual Joe's Tavern featured Helene Missildine as soloist and the Joliettes as the dancers of Paris. Marlene Colwell, vice president, was the proprietor "Joe."

"She's the craziest minute-taker I've ever seen," exclaims Miss Thressa Newell as Sue Brown, secretary; Miss Newell, Miss Donna Needham, and Nancy Thompson, treasurer; discuss the last meeting.

Getting the last crumb of a board dinner is Mary Beth Young. Other board members, Jermaine Eckart, Vicki Allen, Judi Crow, Michelle Williams, Alice Jane Reed, and Janet Henry try for their share of the goodies.

Only sixty more posters and we're finished is the thought of the publicity committee. Linda Hoy, Judi Cummings, Patty Haston, Dixie Hayes, and chairman Jo Ann Kessler combine efforts to make eye-catching posters.

If he takes that last lollipop I'll . . . thinks Jean Glaser. Coralee Barrett approves Galen Rathburn's choice of candy as the three make purchases at a pre-Christmas candy sale at Dillons.

"I bet I have a strike!" exclaims Deloris Murphy as she and Judi Rowe roll their balls down the lanes during a GAA bowling session. The spectators are Kay Anderson, Janice Goldsmith, Beth Wray, Donna Bennett, Barbara Ann Smith, Karen Schroll, and two unidentified GAA members. Deloris is chairman of all GAA sports.

Trying hopelessly to keep that wandering left foot straight is Jane Darling. Board member Shirley Herron gives hints on how to stay up on the ice at the Reformatory pond. Other GAA ice skaters wave from the background.

"After four hundred fifty programs, I'm almost sure the theme of Joe's Tavern is 'Chez Joie,'" says Sue Schrock. In English it means "House of Joe."

Painting and dancing at "Chez Joie" are the smock-clad members of the chorus line. The members are Vickey Erwin, Susan Scruggs, Sue Ann Fowler, assistant head of the line; Susan Sawyer, Martha Gilbert, and Carolyn Newman.

Maybe if I dream awhile I can remember the next step thinks Elsie Norris as Penny Nichols, Carole Kruger, head of the line; Elsie, Donna Gaeddert, Marcia Ebright, and Sandy Embick dance for Joe's customers.

"The other day I missed this chord and you should have seen the chorus line," chuckles Alice Jane Reed, pianist for the line, to Carol Rostine, accompanist for the soloist and Joe.

Dixie Hayes and Bob Nicklin read for parts at tryouts while Bruce Davis, Pat Ross, Diane Mitchell, and Jim Enns wait for their cues.

The senior class of 1960 presented "You Can't Take It With You" May 4 and 5 in Richardson Auditorium. Rehearsals for the play, directed by Mr. Bobby Patton, began in March.

The plot of the play revolved around a romance between Alice Sycamore, played by Pat Ross, a member of a delightfully mad family, and Tony Kirby, Mark Mallett, the attractive son of very proper parents. When Tony brought his parents, played by Sharon McDaniel and Douglas Hager, to dine at Alice's home on the wrong evening, the unprepared Sycamores offered them cheap food for dinner. The shock shown by the Kirbys at this suggestion convinced Alice that marriage to Tony was out of the question, but Tony wouldn't give her up because he felt that his parents were wrong.

Mr. and Mrs. Sycamore were played by Bill Hobson and Diane Mitchell. Others in the cast were Helene Missildine, Thelma Walker, Bruce Davis, Jim Enns, Bob Nicklin, Mike Barnes, Mac Anderson, and Valerie Ferris. Dixie Hayes was student director.

Anxiously awaiting their turns are Helene Missildine and Valerie Ferris as Diane Mitchell, Rex Gaskill, and Mac Anderson try out.

hawks have winning season

With a nucleus of twelve returning lettermen from the 1958 Salt Hawk football squad, which was a co-champion in the Ark Valley League, fans and players alike were optimistic over Hutchinson High's chances for 1959. However, there were many disappointing, as well as enlightening moments ahead from which the '59 team would emerge with a five-won, four-lost record and second place in the always tough Ark Valley League.

Hutchinson's league record of four wins and one loss was better than that of the previous year, and the four teams to whom the Hawks lost were all among the Associated Press's top-ten teams in the state.

The 1959 grid season began on a somber note as the favored Salt Hawks found themselves coming home from Great Bend on the short end of a 12-7 score. Hutchinson scored first on a good drive climaxed by a touchdown by fullback Armand Baughman and was ahead 7-0 at intermission. But the Hawks could not muster a defense the second half, as the Panthers scored twice on end runs.

Wichita Southeast came to town for the second game of the season with a dangerous reputation and a fine football team. Hutchinson was fired up and hungry for an upset, but the Hawks couldn't get the job done. Although the game started as a slaughter, with Southeast scoring nine quick points early in the game, the Hawks battled back in the second period on gains by Jon Wickliffe and a touchdown by Baughman before going down in the second half under a 21-7 score.

Hutchinson finally moved into high gear at El Dorado for their first victory of the season by a 38-12 score.

The Wildcats scored first on a 26-yard touchdown pass but after that it was all Hutchinson as the Salt Hawks built up a 20-6 halftime lead on touchdowns by Ken Cotton, Armand Baughman, and Fred Stanfield, and two conversions by Lin Entz.

In what was probably their finest game, Hutchinson combined a powerful offense with a rugged defense to down the Winfield Vikings 34-7.

The offense again featured Baughman on three touchdown plunges and a 37-yard touchdown pass from Stanfield to Cotton. But the Salters' defense was important. Guards Lin Entz and Stu Keown were in Winfield's backfield all night and had much to do with the Vikings' total of only 25 yards rushing.

The tragedy which so often strikes other fine football teams struck Hutchinson the night they played West. After being at their peak the week before, the team was not up for the West game.

The Salt Hawks looked good after taking the opening kickoff. But a West end picked up a Hutchinson fumble and broke into the clear for a touchdown that broke the Salt Hawk spirit. West and Ken Coleman then went on to slaughter the Salters 48-20. A beaten and beat-up bunch of Salt Hawks left Lawrence Stadium with their tail feathers clipped.

The next game, which was with North, was close and hard fought all the way. Stanfield was the big man on offense as Jim Hughes and Wes Watkins had their best night on defense. The Salt Hawks won a squeaker 19-13.

The Salt Hawks notched their third AVL victory, without a loss, on a Wellington gridiron that looked more like a hog pen.

The Hawks gained their victory by capitalizing on Wellington's mistakes. Cotton set up the first Hawk marker by intercepting a Crusader pass on the 30-yard line. After a jump pass to Al Casey, Stanfield went in for the score from the 1.

Wellington then came back to score on the last play of the first half.

In the final period, Hutchinson made steady gains before Baughman scored the winning touchdown and Entz kicked the point to give the Salt Hawks a well earned 13-6 victory.

"Did they make it?" seems to be in the minds of almost everyone as Referee Harry Davison and Captains Stanfield (62) and Entz (68) get a close view of an important measurement in the Wellington game. The Hawks stopped the Crusaders on this fourth-down try and took possession of the ball and scored.

The Arkansas City game was a disappointing one for Hutchinson.

Not only did the Hawks lose, but they lost by a most decisive score of 28-0. It was the only time all year that the Hutchinson team was "whitewashed."

Ark City unleashed Frank Brown, a speedy fullback, for two touchdowns and relied on Terry Downing's passes to end Steve Sherwood for the other two scores.

The victory assured the Bulldogs at least a tie for the AVL title, which they went on to win with an identical 28-0 score over Winfield. The defeat was the first one for Hutchinson on the Ark City field since 1951.

There just wasn't a heck of a lot you could say about the Ark City game.

With the gracefulness of a ballerina, Wichita North's Roger Helt sidesteps Hutchinson tacklers Sam Walker (65) and Fred Stanfield.

Ken Cotton (40) takes a handoff as the entire Salt Hawk team is shown in action against Newton.

It was a cold 17-degree night when the Newton Railroaders came to town for the final game of the season on Nov. 13. But it was a hot night for the Salt Hawks.

With the war cry of "Remember the mud," the Salt Hawks derailed the Railroaders with an avalanche of touchdowns to end the season with a sweet 43-6 victory.

The Hawks scored first on an end run by junior Bruce Ferris. Other Hutch scores were provided by Stanfield with two more touchdowns, followed by two 6-pointers by Cotton and a conversion pass from Stanfield to Rainer Martens.

The final scores came on a pass interception by Stu Steele and a one-yard run by Baughman.

The 43-6 victory gave the Salt Hawks second place in the AVL and salted away an erratic and exciting season which will long be remembered by members and followers of the 1959 Hutchinson High School football team.

*'59-'60 season is
story of ups and downs*

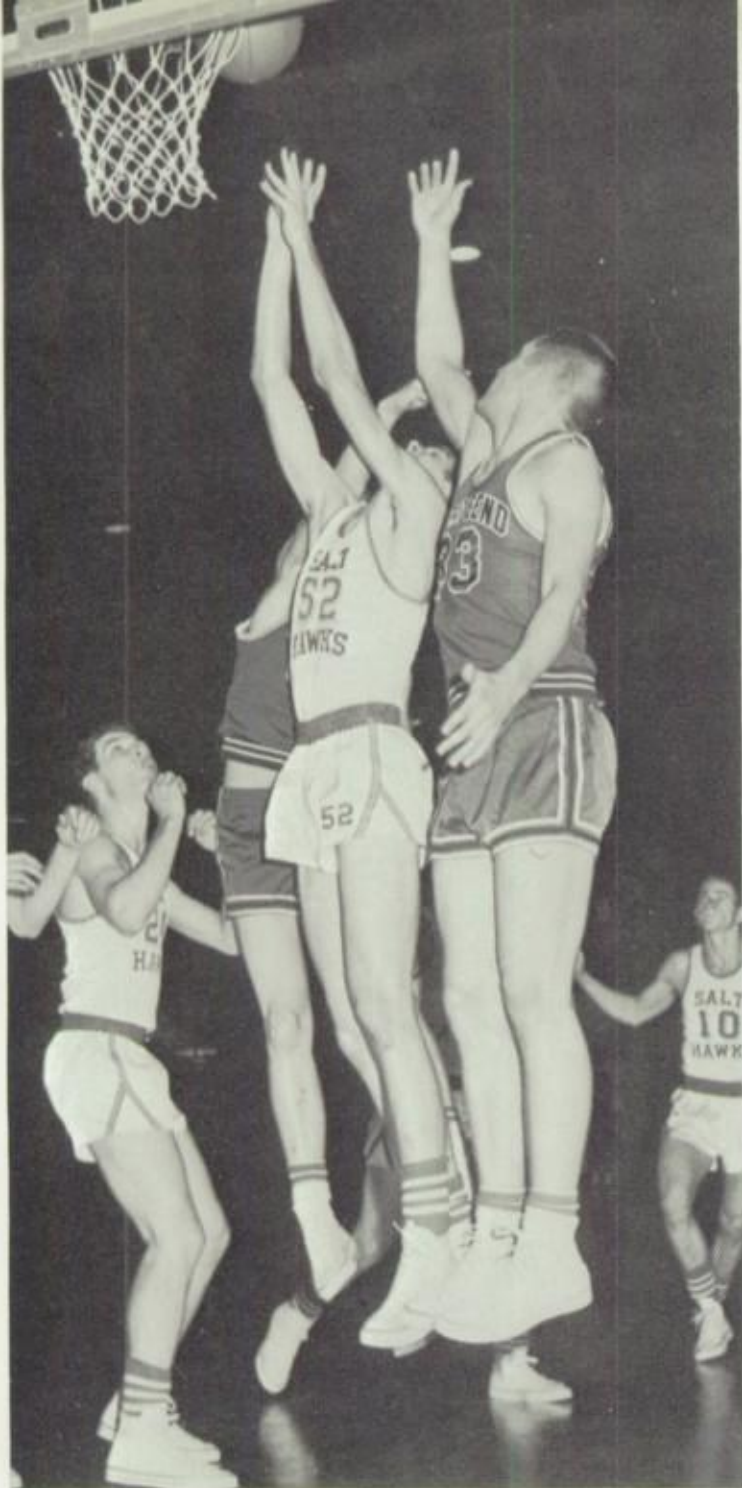

The 1959-'60 basketball season was a story of ups and downs for Coach Joe Krafels and his charges.

With a nucleus of two returning lettermen, the Hawk varsity built a 9-9 regular season and lost to a talented Pratt team in their first game of the regional tournament at Great Bend.

Hutchinson surprised pre-season pollsters by gaining a third-place tie in the AVL. On the basis of a 5-5 league record, the Salt Hawks trailed Newton and the Winfield Vikings in the final standings.

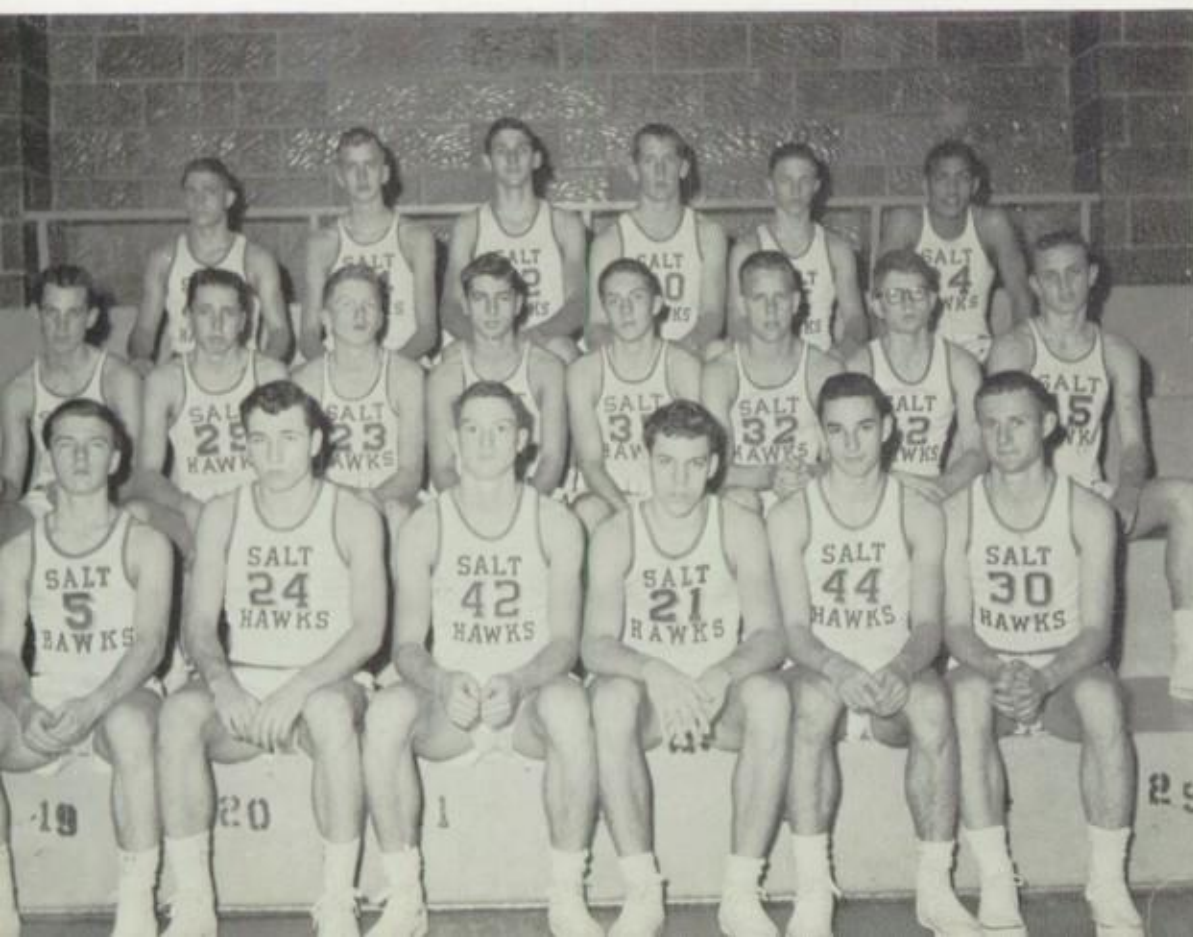

Meanwhile, the B-team, under the leadership of Coaches Don Newell and "Irish" Ireland, compiled a highly creditable 10-6 season record.

Handicapped most of the season by flu and injuries, the Hawks combined desire and ability to produce winning combinations.

Three's a crowd, thinks Doyle Brightenburg while Stu Steele and Bud Montford wait for the outcome during the Great Bend game.

begin with victory over west

Hutchinson was up for their opening game Dec. 4 and defeated Wichita West Pioneers 46-39. This victory at the Arena lent hope to the Hawk plans for '60.

Following the West victory, Hutch opened Ark Valley League play at Newton. The Newton tradition of "Win 'em all in Lindley Hall" proved too much, and the Railroaders scored 58 to Hutch's 41.

The Hutchinson five were up again. This time the victim was Wellington. The Hawks needed an overtime, but whipped the Crusaders 51-47 on the Wellington court.

Wichita Southeast led Hutchinson through the first half, and beat down a rally in the third quarter to give the Hawks their second defeat, 48-51.

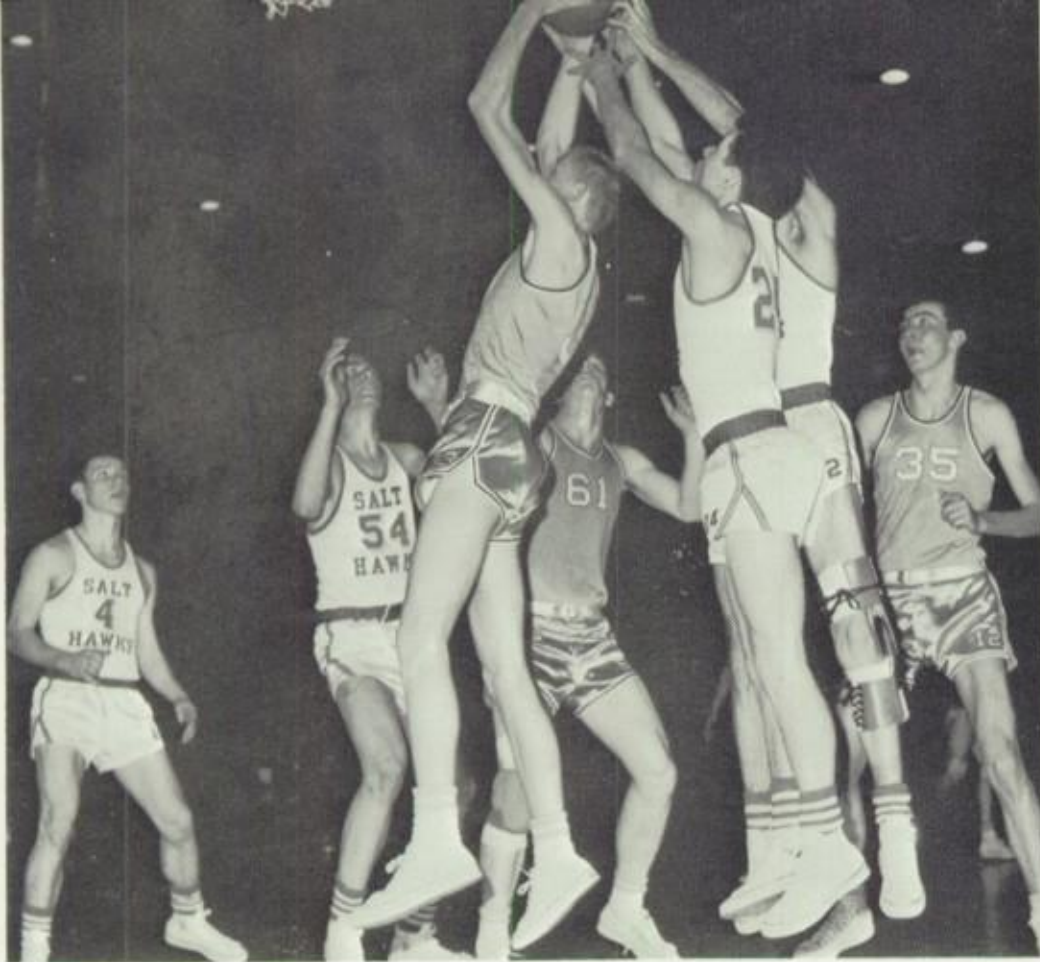

Ark City traveled to Hutchinson for the homecoming game, Jan. 8. The Bulldogs outscored Hutch on field goals, but lost 41-38 on the 77 percent free throw accuracy of the Hawks.

On Jan. 15 Hutchinson traveled to the Emporia Invitational Tournament. In the first round the Hawks trampled a tall Chanute team, 61-48. The championship game, played against host Emporia, was a different story as the Hawks fell, 46-49. Bud Montford led the Hawk individual scoring with a two-game total of 32 points.

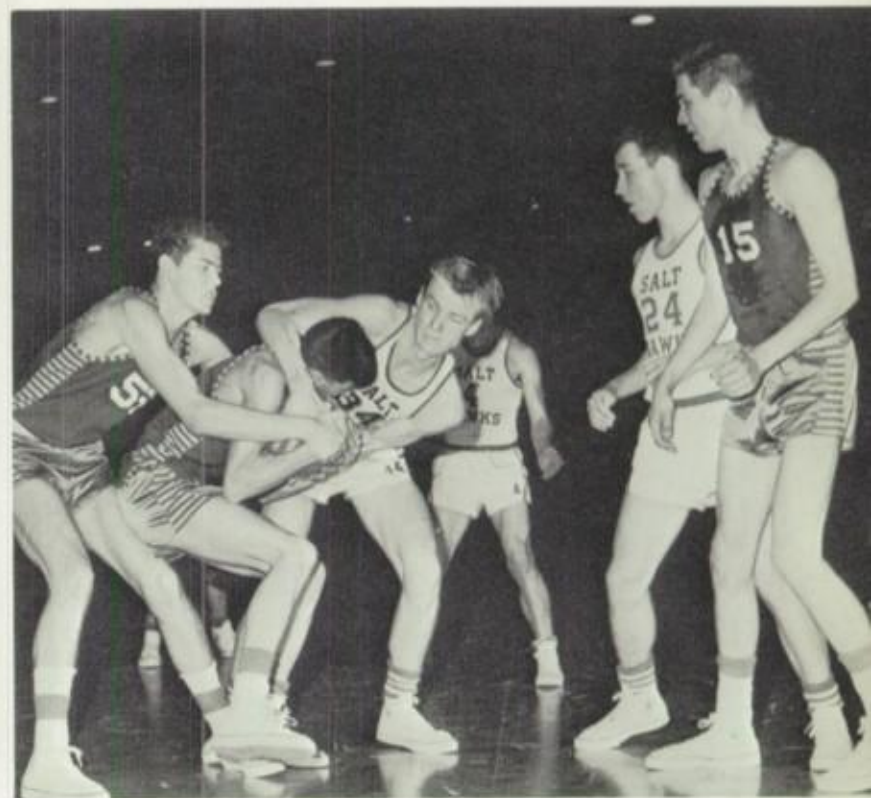

Opening regular season play again, this time at El Dorado, the Hawks trailed throughout the game. After a late three-minute rally, Hutch dropped a heartbreaker, 56-57. Fred Littooy hit 21 points in the losing cause.

Up once again, Hutchinson avenged an earlier loss to Wichita Southeast. With a powerful fast break, the Hawks rolled over the Buffaloes 71-49, for their highest scoring game of the year.

Saturday, Jan. 30, Hutchinson was not only "up,"

Stu Steele and Al Casey gang up on a Southeast player. Stanfield and Littooy wait for the rebound.

John Dean "ties up" an Ark City opponent while Stu Steele holds off reinforcements.

flu-ridden hawks defeat winfield for highlight of season but was miracle-minded. With three regulars ill, Coach Krafels sent a team averaging less than 5-feet, 10-inches per man against the powerful Winfield Vikings. Led by seniors Fred Stanfield and Bud Montford, the junior trio of Stu Steele, Doyle Brightenburg, and Richard Perry not only held their own, but defeated Winfield, 40-31.

Against non-league Great Bend, the flu-ridden Hawks were not as fortunate and went down in defeat, 39-56.

Newton invaded the Sports Arena for the second clash of the year and went home ahead, 42-29. Junior forward Stu Steele held All-Stater Vern Smith to 9 points to highlight the game for Hutchinson.

Next opponent for the Hawks was Wichita North, City League Champions. Down but 5 points at the half, the Hawks tired rapidly and dropped the tilt, 52-70.

Once again at full force Hutch clobbered Wellington 53-45 at the Arena. This win put the Hawks back into serious contention in the AVL race.

In another non-league game Hutch dropped a strong Dodge City team, 59-45. Senior center John Dean hit his high total for the year and took individual scoring honors with 23 points.

Hutchinson took its worst defeat of the year at the hot hands of Ark City, losing 28-51.

Going into the next home game, Hutch carried a 4-4 AVL record. Sparked by Dean's 22 points, the Salt Hawks topped El Dorado, 60-45.

In the final game of the regular season, Hutchinson lost the game and second place in the Valley to Winfield. A late rally was to no avail as the Hawks lost, 52-59.

Hutchinson's first game of the regional tournament, played at Great Bend, was postponed because of heavy snow. Against the Pratt Greenbacks, Dean's 19 and Montford's 18 weren't enough, and the Hawks lost their final game of the year, 64-69.

The team elected Fred Stanfield and Bud Montford co-captains of the squad. Stanfield was also chosen the most inspirational player. Junior forward Stu Steele was voted the most improved player.

John Dean led Hawk total scoring with 209 points and a 12.3 points per game average. Bud Montford led in field goal percentage with 43 per cent, and Stu Steele hit free throws at an 80 per cent clip to lead that department.

Closing up shop for another year are Managers Dave Allen, Ron Bartcher, and Dave Hodge.

"Hey Fred!" yells John Dean as West players close in during the first game of the season.

"I'll take my ball and go home!" warns Fred Littooy as Wichita Southeast players slip past Ken Cotton and John Dean to defend him.

"Grab it, Ken," says Bud Montford as Cotton battles for the rebound against Newton.

It's Newton by a nose as John Dean, Stu Steele, and Bud Montford take second in this race for the ball.

Coach Charles Lyons' crew of wrestlers added another chapter to the school's album of inter-school sports.

With a nucleus of nine returning lettermen, Coach Lyons and Dean Gamble, assistant coach, guided the Salt Hawks to second place in the Wichita West tourney; second in the Ark Valley; a district championship berth; a third in the regionals, and seventh in the state.

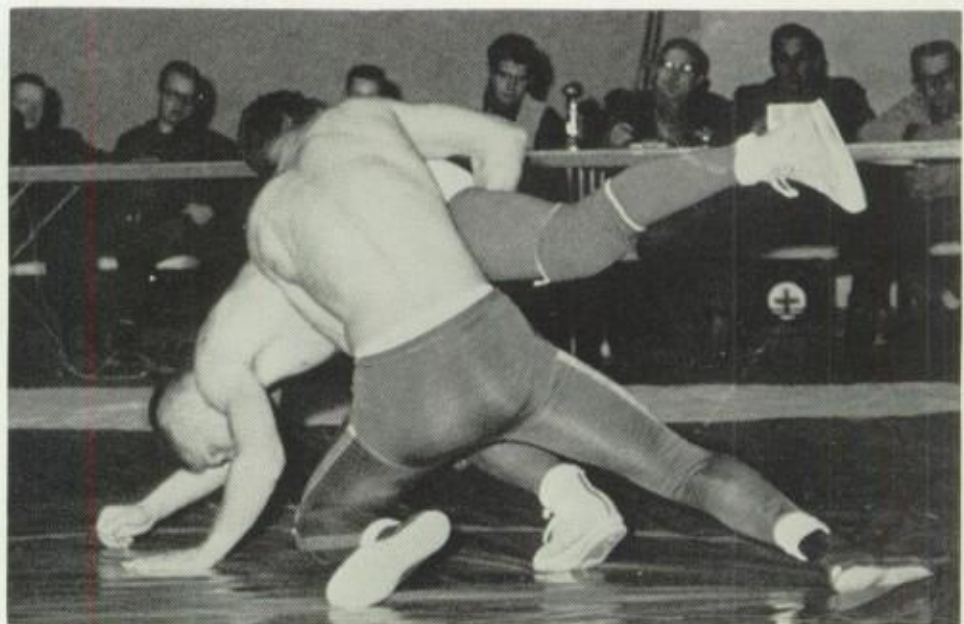

The matmen compiled an impressive pre-tourney record winning seven meets in eight outings. In dual competition the Salters lone loss was to Newton's Railers, 20-22.

hawk trackmen seek third consecutive avl crown

The 1959 Hutchinson High School track squad started a winning season March 28 with a solid first place in the Sterling Relays. The Hawks scored 65 points while Great Bend placed second with 44½ points.

In the second meet of the season, Hutchinson traveled to Wichita for the North Quadrangular. Runners and field men braved strong winds as the host team won the meet with 75 points. Hutchinson was second with 56.

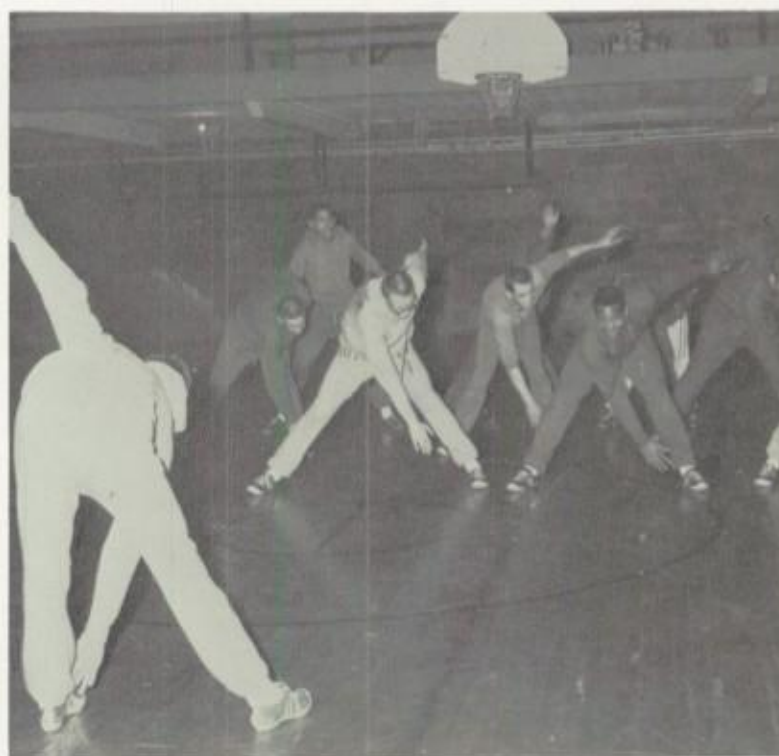

After taking a dual contest from Great Bend, the Hutchinson thin-clads traveled to Lawrence for the annual Kansas University Relays. Although the Hawks carried a ten-man traveling squad, they placed in only one event. The sprint medley relay team of Bill Jennings, Bruce Ferris, Willis Brooks, and Gene Barnard brought home third-place honors.

At the Hutchinson Invitational the Salters took third place as Wichita East and Wichita North took first and second. The contest featured an outstanding performance by Archie San Romani of Wichita East who ran a 4:13.6 mile.

In the AVL meet at El Dorado, the Hutchinson team successfully defended their Ark Valley crown. Five first places and depth in most events won 62½ points for the Hawks. Ark City was second with 46.

Playing host to one of four class AA regionals in the state, the Hawks trailed Wichita North but tied for second with Ark City. Hutchinson qualified five individuals and all three relay teams for the state meet.

Hutchinson scored 7 points to gain tenth place in the state meet. Fred Stanfield placed second in the javelin. Gene Barnard took fifth in the 880, and the medley relay team placed fourth to account for the point total.

Nature became the tennis team's worst enemy last spring as the heaviest snows since the early 1900's fell. Outdoor practice, which was impossible the first weeks in March, forced the team indoors.

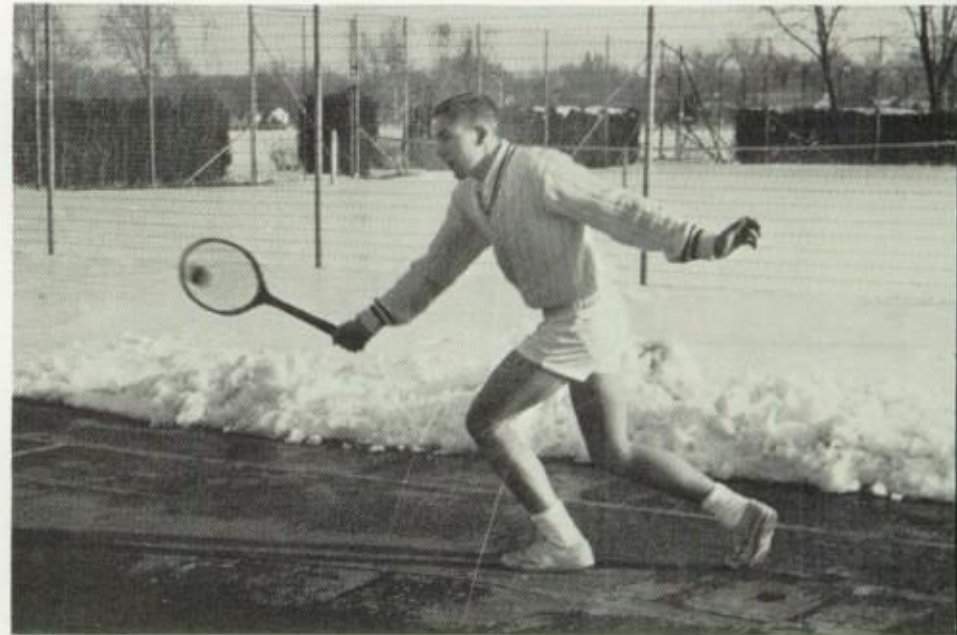

Mr. Homer Kruckenberg began his first year as the coach of the squad. With four seasoned lettermen, the prospects were good for a "better than average" season. Returning lettermen were Vic Sisk, Van Thompson, Larry Kingsley, and Bob Henson.

Last year's squad compiled its best season record in years and finished second in the Ark Valley Tournament.

THE 1960 GOLF SQUAD—FIRST ROW: J. King, B. Summers, D. Wingert, B. McDonald, C. Fish, D. Sellers, D. Hodge, L. Brown R. Eberhart, D. Swanson, D. Bowman, and M. Sims. SECOND ROW: M. Hamilton, coach; G. Spence, G. Rathbun, P. Schmucker, J. Roberts, B. Wilson, J. Edgington, R. Hilst, D. Haskard, J. Hardy, and A. Hamilton.

With eight returning lettermen the golf team was prepared for all comers. This year's team was the same team that placed fourth in the state tournament in 1959.

The returning lettermen were seniors Alan Hamilton, Dave Bowman, Galen Rathbun, Jerry Kirkpatrick, and Rusty Hilst. The juniors were Jim Hardy and Dean Wingert. Chuck Fish was the only returning sophomore.

Trophies under the golfer's belts were firsts in last year's Hutchinson Invitational and first in the regional, also held in Hutchinson. Mr. Max Hamilton was coach of the team.

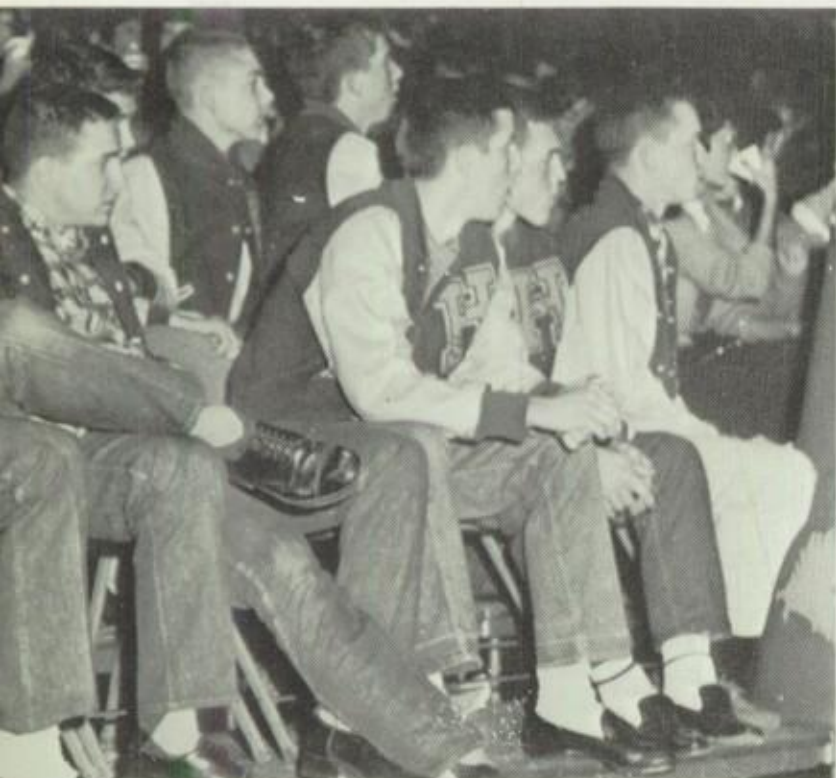

"I kinda' took a bead on him and . . ." continues Alan Hamilton to the senior lettermen G. Rathbun, D. Bowman, and R. Hilst.

"Keep your eye on the ball," says Max Hamilton to lettermen D. Bowman, C. Fish, R. Hilst, and J. Hardy. Kneeling are D. Wingert and G. Rathbun.

Members of the 1959 H-Club are taking time-out on a warm spring afternoon to clean whitewash off the north side of HHS. A group of "unknown" vandals provided the job.

Electing officers was the first item of business for H-Club in 1959-'60. Elected were Fred Stanfield, president; Stu Keown, vice president; Lin Entz, secretary; and Jim Hughes, treasurer.

The sponsoring of the football homecoming dance after the victory over Newton and the crowning of the football queen, Carole Kruger, at the dance, highlighted H-Club's activities during the school year.

After drawing much praise for their dancing at the Snowball, the H-Club chorus line of twelve senior boys retired to rest on their laurels.

The awarding of football letters in a February meeting provided the club with several new members. Letters were awarded at the end of each semester after grades had been received and it was known whether the prospective member was eligible scholastically.

Working the concession stands at football games and track meets provided funds for the club's treasury and the buying of pop and hot dogs for the annual H-Club picnic in the spring provided a way of spending them.

makes plans for new unit-type school

Lowell A. Small, superintendent of the Hutchinson public school system for nine years, is looking forward to this fall when he will see the new senior high school building completed. The big move of equipment from the present building at Seventh and Walnut to the new building at Thirteenth and Severance will start in June.

"Providing the work continues at its present rate, the new building should be ready," assured Mr. Small.

Receiving his master of arts degree from Colorado University and a bachelor of science degree from Kansas Wesleyan University, Mr. Small took his postgraduate work from the University of Missouri and Oregon State University. He is a member of the national honorary fraternity Kappa Delta Phi and also holds an honorary degree of doctor of literature. He has been a president of the Kansas State Teachers Association.

"When I have the time," Mr. Small commented, "I spend it with my wife, three sons, and my photography."

The $3,200,000 campus-style high school will accomodate about 2000 students who will be taught by the unit-method. The school will be three separate high schools. Mr. Small pointed out that, "With this unit-type of high school, we can retain the advantages of the smaller school." Another advantage is a better counseling service for the individual student.

Plans also call for the remodeling of the present fifty-year old high school building into a junior high to house 900 students. A cafeteria will be added and other minor changes made.

At the board of education's bi-monthly meetings approval of improvements at some of the fourteen elementary schools has been given. Grandview and Roosevelt will have additions, and a new structure is to be built to add to the present buildings at North Side. The addition at North Side will replace the old Central elementary building, the seventy-seven year old first high school of Hutchinson.

Watch that curve! Board of Education members tryout drivers' education training machines during one of their bi-monthly meetings. Members are Mrs. J. Richards Hunter, Mr. Harry Coberly, board president; Mr. Lowell Small, superintendent of schools; Mr. W. W. Ferguson, board vice president; Bud Reynolds, demonstrator; Mr. Ralph Thorne, the Reverend Charles Dumond, and Mr. A. L. Pierce, secretary of the board.

The modernistic style of the new high school is shown in these shots of the incomplected structure. The steel cobweb will form the dome of the auditorium and the other building will be a wing of classrooms.

Principal R. C. Guy's tenth year at Hutchinson High School marks the end of fifty years for the building at Seventh and Walnut. This fall Mr. Guy will be greeting the faculty and students in a new building.

Recalling past experiences in the old building, Mr. Guy laughingly said, "I think, most of all, I'll remember the temperamental public address system.

"The new school will place special emphasis on guidance of the student. With this method we will get to know each student individually.

"The change from a unit-building to a campus-style school will, naturally, bring about problems," said Mr. Guy. "It will increase educational opportunities and there will be room to expand."

Mr. Guy remarked that there are mixed emotions among the faculty about leaving. "Some are reluctant to leave while others look forward to the change."

When not engaged in ironing out problems of running a school, he especially enjoys fishing. "You can either work at trying to catch something or just sit back and relax, hoping the fish won't bother you."

The Guys have three married daughters and four grandchildren. In April they saw, for the first time, two of the children whose parents have been stationed in Germany.

Mr. Guy proudly said, "The North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools maintains the highest standards for membership of any accrediting association in the United States. Hutchinson High School's fifty years of continuous membership in the North Central Association is a noteworthy achievement and one in which the community, faculty, and students should take pride."

Principal R. C. Guy

With his B.S. and M.S. degrees from Kansas State Teacher's College in Pittsburg, Kansas, Mr. Guy's philosophy as he looks toward a new method of school administration is, "Teach toward goals and realize what they are."

"Next please"—Vice Principal Nels Havens pauses as the morning absentee and tardy line receives excuses and "sevenths." Mr. Havens also is the head sponsor of student council.

Doing the behind-the-scenes tasks is the office staff, Mrs. Wanda Seaman, secretary, and Mrs. W. G. Holzworth, bookkeeper.

Using the mimeograph machine is Mrs. Virginia Bartlett, the vice principal's secretary.

A familiar sight to students is Miss Pearl Clinton, secretary to Principal R. C. Guy.

Library assistant, Mrs. Eleanor Lanning, takes time-out for the cameraman as she types a list of new books.

acknowledgments

Many hours of hard work on the part of thirty-five staff members plus the constant help of adviser Mrs. Aylene Keown has made possible the publication of the 1960 Allagaroo. We hope that the students who paid their $3.50 or $4 are proud of Hutchinson High School's yearbook.

The 1960 Allagaroo is not only the work of this year's staff, it represents improvements and additions based on the work of previous staffs—all the way back to Volume I, published in 1909.

The 1960 Allagaroo was lithographed by Myers Yearbooks, Inc., of Topeka, Kans., on 100 pound enamel paper. The cover was made by Durand of Chicago, Ill. The copy is of three types: the cutlines are set in 10 point Bodoni Book and 10 point Bodoni Bold, the body copy in 12 point Bodoni Book, and the index and senior records in 8 point Bodoni Book. Headlines are set in lower case 24 point Futura Demibold and the sub-headlines in 18 point Baskerville Italics. Division pages are set in 36 point Futura Bold and 18 point Baskerville Italics.

Many people have helped make Volume LI a reality. The staff owes its special thanks to the administration, faculty, and the students for their cooperation; Art Eveland Studio for the senior pictures and portraits of kings and queens; Jim Williamson for the color photography; and Miss Alice Lucile Stevens, class of 1910, for pictures and information.

The book has been published and we have nothing to do except examine the results of our efforts. We sincerely hope that you will enjoy the last yearbook to be put out from the sanctuary of room 11 as much as we enjoyed putting it together.
